STEFILEE Janse van Rensburg, a grade six learner from Glenanda Primary school, the learners could be challenged. recently won the Riverspray Creative Writing Competition.

Schools from across Gauteng entered their grade six learners into the competition where students were required to write an essay of 250 words on the Riverspray Lifestyle Estate.

"We wanted to run a competition that was beneficial to the curriculum and would challenge the learners.

It seems like kids are losing communication skills as they enclose themselves with facebook, twitter and mxit.

We wanted to run a competition where the learners could be challenged.

They had to do research, speak different people and express it in creative way," Nick Morgan of Riverspray explained.

The judges affirmed that the quality of the essays were very high but at the end the day one essay stood out.

That was Stefilee Janse van Rensburg's essay.

Stefilee won R2 000 for herself, a bursary for next years school fees and R 000 for her school.

Well done Stefilee your hard work and dedication has paid off.
